

Ideas Pooled For State Tax Reform Setup

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—A "combination" solution — possibly involving both state and local income taxes—was being sought today by Gov. George Romney to solve Michigan's tax problems.

As a final three-day series of conferences with Republican legislative leaders broke up on Mackinac Island Friday, Romney said it was generally agreed to seek fiscal reform on a combination state-local basis "with as much emphasis on local option as is practical and sound."

"I'm not saying that we are in complete agreement in respect to all the details," Romney explained, "but we are in closer agreement than at any other time on the general approach."

The governor said neither a statewide income tax nor local option taxes have been ruled in or out so far.

Because of an earlier agreement to hold down general fund expenditures in the 1964-65 budget to the level of current revenue, Romney said, the program to be developed under the "combination" approach will not be the answer to the needs of the state indefinitely.

Romney has indicated that one possibility under a local option plan would give to counties or large cities the chance to enact up to a 2 per cent income tax, which would be allocated to schools and local governments on a basis to be set forth by the legislature.

The governor told reporters that taxes on income are not the only kind of levies that could be included in his program.

Senate and House leaders shared Romney's view that the "combinations" approach was the best one at this time.

The Senate's GOP caucus chairman—Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-An Arbor—recalled that in the past there has been a strong divergence of views.

"Now we have strong areas of agreement," he commented.

Livonia Resident Pleads Guilty To Attack On Girl, 6

DETROIT (AP)—Norton Silvers, 38, of Livonia, remained in jail under $50,000 bond today in the kidnapping and rape of a six-year-old girl.

Silvers, looking gaunt in a T-shirt and khaki trousers, pleaded guilty to the two charges Friday in Recorder's Court, two days after the alleged crime.

Assistant prosecutor John W. Coury of Wayne County asked for the high bond, saying "this man is not safe to be released among the public."

Judge Gerald W. Groat ordered a preliminary hearing Aug. 16.

Police credited the quick arrest of Silvers to the alertness of the victim, a Detroit girl, and a Dearborn gasoline station employee.

Leaking Chlorine Gas Sickens 430 In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dense clouds of chlorine gas escaping through a broken pipe from a railroad tank car billowed through a densely populated section of Northeast Philadelphia Friday, sending more than 430 persons to hospitals. There were no fatalities, but two persons were reported in critical condition.

Many persons, some vomiting and screaming because of the searing fumes, tried to flee on foot and were overcome. Many of those stricken were unprotected firemen and policemen who went into the area on mercy missions.

Police said the chlorine, stored in liquid form in the tank car, started escaping when a pipe broke.

The car, a Pennsylvania Railroad tanker, apparently was rammed by another car, investigators said.

The leaking chlorine turned to a thick, yellow gas. Heavier than air, it was nudged through the neighborhood by a 10-mile-an-hour wind.

It was the second chlorine gas leak in Eastern Pennsylvania in two weeks. A leaking chlorine valve in a Reading swimming pool sickened 59 bathers July 26.

When unmasked firemen and police rescuers tried to enter the stricken area in Philadelphia, many fell in their tracks, William J. Eckles, deputy fire commissioner, said the gas was very toxic. The leak started about 1:35 p.m. at the Wonder Chemical Co. The owner, Arnold Lanza, 50, was in his office when he smelled what he immediately recognized as escaping chlorine gas.

"I grabbed a mask I keep just for such emergencies, called for my 15 men to leave the plant and ran outside," he recounted.

Lanza said after he detected the escaping gas he saw that a one-inch copper pipe connecting the car and a vat had snapped at both ends. The chlorine was spilling onto the tank car, over the track and into the plant, which makes laundry bleach and detergents.

Shouting warnings as he ran around the plant, he scrambled over an embankment and turned off the valve.

Residents poured from buildings, including mothers carrying crying babies and searching for children at play.

The fumes grazed over a nearby swimming pool. "It burned us like fire," said one little girl. "When we jumped into the water, it hurt even worse."

Hospital emergency rooms soon were overflowing. About 70 persons were admitted.

A hospital spokesman said the gas victims suffered shortness of breath, chest pains and sore throat.

Tax Cut Decision Held Up In House

WASHINGTON (AP)—House writers have now passed judgment on most of President Kennedy's tax revision proposals, though their decision on the major tax cut part of his program still lies ahead.

The Ways and Means Committee has gone at least part way with Kennedy on most of the suggestions he made in the name of reducing inequities and bringing more income under tax so that rates could be cut more deeply.

But in terms of revenue, the committee has provided for only about one-third of what Kennedy proposed — about $1 billion, instead of more than $3 billion.

It still is expected to recommend a tax cut approaching Kennedy's net $10-billion-plus proposal. But because it has not broadened the tax base in the way he suggested, it will not be able to recommend the kind of rate reductions he advocated from the present range of 20 to 91 per cent. He proposed 14 to 65, but apparently both the bottom and the top levels, as set by the committee, will have to be higher.

For the offsetting revenue it sought, the administration relied heavily on one provision which never got off the ground in Congress: a proposal to cut down itemized deductions — for local taxes, interest, charity and the like—by allowing only the amount in excess of 5 per cent of a taxpayer's income.

The Treasury said this would bring in $2.3 billion a year, more than two-thirds of the total pickup it wanted.

This proposal proved almost universally unpopular among the legislators. The closest the committee came to it was to recommend disallowing deductions for state gasoline, liquor and cigarette taxes—although real estate, income and sales taxes still would be deductible. This is tagged for $500 million additional revenue.

Kennedy, while not suggesting any change in the 27½ per cent depletion allowance in the petroleum industry, called for changes in the factors on which depletion is calculated and other tax tight-enings in the field of oil operations.

Unofficially, his recommendations were estimated as costing the industry up to $280 million a year in taxes. The committee approved a fraction of the package, estimated at $40 million

Death Upsets Family Move To Virgin Islands

FARMINGTON (AP)—When a Farmington couple and their two children left here July 18 for the Virgin Islands, they were looking forward to a life of fun and adventure together.

Friday the father and children returned by plane — shocked by the sudden death of the mother. Lowell Keith and his wife, Pat, said they were "getting away from it all" when they sailed aboard a 38-foot Chinese junk for St. Croix, southernmost of the Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Keith, 30, died in her sleep some time Wednesday night. Her uncle, Dr. Kelly Keith of Bloomfield Hills, said death was apparently due to heart failure. He said she had a heart condition which may have been caused by diphtheria when she was a child. Their boat was battered in a storm near Chicago after they left, so they decided to fly to the islands and have their boat shipped. They were waiting for it when Mrs. Keith died.

The Keiths had planned to establish a ferrying service from St. Croix to nearby Buck Island National Park, a haven for skin divers.

The Keith's children, David, and Jo Ann, were to be the ship's "crew."

The Keiths' former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, said they received a post card the day Mrs. Keith died, saying that the family had arrived at its destination and that everything was fine.

Dr. Keith said that Keith and his children will stay at his home.

Dr. Keith said he did not know whether Keith and his children would return to their dream in the Virgin Islands.

"It's a real tragedy," he said.

Scotland Yard Pushes Hunt For Train Robbers

LONDON (AP)—Flying squads from Scotland Yard raided homes in London's East End today, hunting bandits who got away with more than $7 million in the world's greatest train robbery. An international search order also went out for the suspected mastermind.

Most of the loot, valued at 2,525,100 pounds — $7,070,280 — was in dog-eared but easily spendable paper currency that banks were shipping to London for repulping.

Scotland Yard described the suspect as a master planner who would be able to maintain almost military discipline in his gang.

Detectives said the man has not been seen in any of his usual haunts. They believe he may have sought to establish an alibi by leaving Britain several days before the Glasgow-London mail train was robbed Thursday at a lonely spot 40 miles northwest of London.

Interpol, the international police organization, has been asked to search for the suspect in the holiday resorts of southern France and Spain.

Detectives here hunted for signs of mail bags that had been burned or destroyed. Insurance companies and the Post Office tried to flush out a stool pigeon with rewards totaling 260,000 pounds — $720,000 — some $28,000 more than the loot from Britain's previous record mail robbery in 1952.

Since a gang of 15 or more carried out the theft, the reward would be bigger than any individual share of the loot.

It would be tax free, with no questions asked.

Police said none of the serial survivors of the stolen currency notes was recorded.

Man In $153,000 Livonia Stickup Awaits Sentence

DETROIT (AP)—William LeRoy Maus, 28, who perpetrated Michigan's biggest bank holdup in history—the $153,000 Livonia stickup Jan. 29—switched his plea Friday. He changed it from innocent to guilty. He now awaits sentence.

Maus spent an hour in U. S. District Court telling Judge Ralph M. Freeman the details of his one-man holdup of a branch of the Bank of Livonia.

The loot, of which all but $20,000 was recovered, was by far the most ever taken in a Michigan bank robbery.

Antlerless Deer Season Ordered

CADILLAC (AP)—Some 155,000 deer-hunters will be granted permits to shoot does and fawns this fall in Michigan under deer season regulations adopted unanimously by the conservation commission Friday.

A conservation department spokesman reported the commission accepted the Department's recommendation aimed at a total harvest of some 125,000 whitetails.

The buck kill should approach 60,000, the spokesman said, while special anti-deer regulations should allow the taking of 17,000 antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula and 43,000 in the Lower Peninsula.

One state senator, Democrat Charles McManiman of Houghton, criticized the commission for taking what he called a "public be damned" attitude by allowing antlerless deer hunting in the Upper Peninsula.

The heads of the conservation committees of both legislative houses supported the action.

Berlin Brigade Souped Up By U.S.

The reorganization will begin Sept. 1.

Cardinal Conducts Burial Rites For President's Baby

BOSTON (AP)—President Kennedy attended a private Mass of the Angels today for his infant son, Patrick, in a chapel at the residence of his friend, Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston.

The President flew up this morning from Otis Air Force Base where Patrick was born Wednesday. The child died early Friday.

The cardinal said the special Children's Mass. He wore white vestments, unlike a regular funeral Mass when black vestments are worn.

The main theme of the Roman Catholic ritual for the mass of the Angels is: "Everlasting life to all children."

Ritual For Children

The ritual was established particularly for children who die before the age of reason — about seven years.

With the conclusion of the Mass the cardinal said: "This child shall receive a blessing from the Lord, and mercy from God, his salvation, for this is the race of those who seek the Lord."

Later, solace could be found in the prayer: "Because of my innocence You have received me, and given me a place in Your sight forever."

The closing prayer reaffirmed the reassurance for the bereaved. It said: "Almighty and most loving God, for no merits of their own, as soon as they leave this world, You give everlasting life to all little children reborn in the font of baptism, as we believe that You have given it today to the soul of this little child."

Patrick was baptized shortly after birth.

Families Present

Jacqueline Kennedy, 34, the First Lady, who gave birth to the premature baby by Caesarean section, did not accompany the President from Otis Air Force Base. She is still in the base hospital but is resting comfortably.

Accompanying the President were his two brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and their wives; his three sisters and their husbands; Eunice and Sargent Shriver, Jean and Stephen Smith, Patricia and Peter Lawford; Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss and her husband, and Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill.

The third child of the President died Friday at Boston's Children's Hospital Medical Center nearly 40 hours after his birth.

Condolences from all over the world started to pour in immediately.

Only 13 others, all close relatives, were invited to join the President at the services today in the chapel at Cardinal Cushing's residence.

The group included the President's two brothers and their wives — Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy — and his three sisters and their husbands, Eunice and Sargent Shriver, Jean and Stephen Smith and Patricia and Peter Lawford.

Also invited to attend the funeral were Mrs. Kennedy's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, and Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Stanislaus Radziwill.

Other members of the family planned to visit Mrs. Kennedy at the hospital during the services.

The ritual of the Mass of the Holy Angels, to be celebrated by the Boston prelate, was established for children who died before reaching the age of reason — about seven years.

The infant will be buried at Holyhood Cemetery in Brookline, the suburban community where the President was born. Cardinal Cushing was asked to officiate.

Grandmother In Paris

Patrick Kennedy died 39 hours and 12 minutes after he was born. He succumbed to hyaline membrane disease — a membrane formation of the lungs which doctors said prevented oxygen from reaching the blood stream.

The President stood by when the boy died at 4:04 a.m., after teams of doctors and technicians struggled in vain to preserve the young life.

West Germany Concerned Over Berlin Security

BONN, Germany (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today to rally West German support for the limited nuclear test ban treaty and for the further East-West talks to ease cold war tensions.

Rusk scheduled the 20-hour stop-over partly to soothe West German apprehension over the limited test ban pact which Communist East Germany plans to sign. Bonn fears the treaty could be manipulated to force recognition of East Germany and seal the division of Germany.

Guarantee Wanted

West Germany wants assurance that the test treaty will not be used to jeopardize the freedom and security of West Berlin.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder were expected to insist to Rusk that the West receive such a guarantee before West Germany adheres to the treaty.

They were expected to make similar demands in considering Khrushchev's proposals to ease cold war tensions — an East-West nonaggression pact, reductions in military spending, and ground inspection teams on both sides of the Iron Curtain to guard against surprise attack.

Rusk planned to brief the West German leaders on his week of talks in the Soviet Union before returning to Washington Monday to drum up support for Senate ratification of the test ban treaty.

Relax At Badminton

Rusk conferred with Khrushchev for 2½ hours Friday at the Soviet premier's lavish Black Sea retreat in a relaxed meeting followed by a fast game of badminton.

Khrushchev, 69, claimed victory over Rusk, 54. "Practice," Khrushchev said when Rusk told him, "You play well."

Among other things they discussed Germany, Berlin, trade, Laos, Cuba, and the nonaggression pact. Rusk said that no conclusions were reached and that negotiations will continue through normal diplomatic channels.

There evidently was no talk of a summit meeting.

After a huge Russian-style meal on a porch overlooking the sea, Rusk returned to Moscow.

Negro Groups Oppose Edwards

DETROIT (AP)—Two Negro groups say they will ask President Kennedy not to nominate Detroit's police commissioner, George Edwards, to a federal judgeship because of his handling of the Cynthia Scott shooting case.

Miss Scott, 24, who had a record as a prostitute, was shot to death by a policeman July 5. The officer said she slashed him with a knife in resisting arrest. The policeman was exonerated by superiors. Edwards upheld them. Miss Scott was a Negro.

Edwards, an attorney and former justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, has been reported in line for appointment to the U. S. District Court of Appeals.

The Wolverine Bar Association, an organization of Negro lawyers, and the Group on Advanced Leadership (GOAL), a Negro citizens group, said Friday they will make the request of President Kennedy.

The two groups also said they will ask Michigan's two senators, Democrats Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart, to intercede against an appointment for Edwards.

Tito Plans Tour

Tito is expected to visit Mexico, Bolivia, Brazil and Chile, although an official announcement has not been made. The visit reportedly is planned for the latter part of September or early October.

Senator Kefauver Of Tennessee Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, the tall, folksy Tennessee who campaigned in a coonskin cap and once nearly won the Democratic presidential nomination, died today of a ruptured heart vessel.

Death came in the predawn hours at Bethesda Naval Hospital and followed what doctors had described earlier as a "mild heart attack" after Kefauver left the Senate floor Thursday evening feeling ill.

Kefauver had observed his 60th birthday on July 26.

The death was announced by his administrative aide, Charles Caldwell.

Family Too Late

Mrs. Kefauver and two of their daughters, rushing back from a Denver vacation to be with him, arrived too late. Their plane landed just about the time the senator died at 3:40 a.m., an aide said.

Kefauver, Tennessee's senior senator serving his third straight six-year term, was as well known for his Senate investigations of crime, the drug industry and boxing as he was for his two unsuccessful campaigns for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952 and 1956.

A big, friendly man, he had a wide campaign grin and reached out to shake any hand in sight. His softspoken voice seemed almost surprising, coming from his 6-foot-3, 200-pound frame.

"My name is Estes Kefauver," he would say in that soft voice. "I'm running for president of the United States. I hope you'll help me."

In 1952 he swept 14 of the 17 Democratic presidential preference primaries.

At the national convention in Chicago, Kefauver led on the first two ballots, but Adlai Stevenson, now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, overtook him in the third and went on to win the nomination.

Defeats Kennedy

Kefauver tried and lost again to Stevenson for the 1956 nomination, but wound up winning the vice presidential spot on the ticket by defeating a rising young Democratic figure, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

The Stevenson tickets lost both times to Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Before entering the Senate, Kefauver had served more than nine years in the House.

Noted as a liberal on many matters, including civil rights legislation, he was one of the few Southerners in Congress to refuse to sign a manifesto attacking the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation ruling.

His support of antipoll tax and antilynching legislation, and attempts to reform Senate rules to curb filibusters, won him no political friends among the Southern bloc.

He first became familiar to millions of Americans through the cross-country series of televised hearings of his Senate crime investigating committee in 1950 and 1951.

Many of the nation's bigtime racket chiefs, gamblers and hoodlums were hauled before Kefauver — and the TV cameras. He wrote a book about his findings, called "Crime in America."

Delta Votes In Fall On 2 Mill, Year Jail Tax

Delta County officials today planned organization of a plan to build a new Delta County jail immediately.

The Jacobs Plan will be used and a meeting of the Delta County Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. next Thursday is expected to approve its proposal for a 2 mill levy for only one year to raise the money the county will need to pay half the cost of the jail.

A two mill levy means a $2 tax on $1,000 worth of property assessed for taxes.

The action phase of Delta County's jail project started on Friday after many months of planning when Prosecutor Nicholas P. Chapakis and Chairman Wheaton L. Strom of the Delta County Board of Supervisors received telegrams from Senators McNamara and Hart reporting that the Community Facilities Administration had approved a grant of $177,000 to Delta County to build a new jail.

The county's present jail is in process of being condemned by the Michigan Corrections Department as unsafe and the county had made application to the Community Facilities Administration for an accelerated Public Works program grant to help finance a new jail.

Plans Are Ready

A jail designed by G. Arntzen Architect & Co. retained as the county's architects, will cost $350,000. Nine thousand dollars of the $12,000 plans fee already is paid. With the federal government paying half the cost, the county needs to raise $177,000 for the project.

A two mill levy for one year as proposed by Supervisor Lawrence Jacobs, chairman of the board's finance committee, would bring in $155,000 on the county's assessed valuation of $77 million. The rest could be supplied from current county revenues.

The plan, said Board Chairman Strom, would be a "cash" transaction to be paid for by the federal government and the county in the same year that the jail is constructed and the most economical method of financing which could be devised for the taxpayers. This method eliminates interest and the involved and expensive business of bonding and puts all the county's money into construction costs.

The county has been on notice that it must replace its jail for several years. Investment in a jail appears to be necessary but unpopular with every county official except Sheriff Cully Johnson and probably with every county taxpayer. The Delta County Building Authority incorporated a jail in its original plan for the new Delta County Building but deleted it as an economy measure.

General U.P. Problem

The result was that the county offices moved from the old county building to the new one and the old building was razed, but the jail remained where it has stood for 80 years, its walls bulging and its prisoners in peril of building collapse, according to the State Corrections Department.

The jail problem is a general one in the Upper Peninsula. When the 15 U.P. counties made their Overall Economic Development Plans for the Area Redevelopment Administration, five of them listed new jails as needs. With the state nudging them in reminder that they must not endanger public charges, or expose the young to adult vices or the incarcerated or the mentally disturbed, or otherwise neglect or mistreat them, the counties sought means of financing new jails.

The result is that several jail projects are underway in the Peninsula besides Delta's.

Site Publicly Owned

The jail site is in public ownership and will be made available without charge at the rear of the new Delta County Building on Ludington St. The jail entry will be 3rd St. and the jail will provide housing for 40 prisoners. The state had asked a 50-bed jail, but Prosecutor Chapakis and Sheriff Johnson in a Lansing visitation to the Corrections Department obtained reduction.

The jail has never had a population of 50 and there is no such need in prospect. The present potential capacity of the jail is 37, but because one cell is used for storage there is not that much capacity actually available and the need to house mental patients until they can be admitted to Newberry State Hospital further restricts the housing, because they must be segregated.

The new one story jail would match the County Building in appearance and provide, besides the quarters for inmates, housing for the sheriff, and a partial basement to house a control center for Civil Defense, that most uncertain of all government agencies, which has come to roost partially in the sheriff's department.

School Tax Proposal

The jail tax proposal will be in a competition of sorts with another millage proposal in September voting. The Delta County Board when it meets next week is expected to approve the 2 mill, one year tax proposal for voting about Sept. 25. Forty days are needed to process such an election so it will not go on a ballot in the same Sept. 9 election in which the Escanaba Area School District will propose to its voters approval of a 2 mill levy for 5 years to create a sinking (building) fund to finance replacement of the Franklin School building, now closed because it's structurally hazardous and improvement of other elementary schools in the district.

The school proposal would also equalize the present school debt between the units of the newly consolidated school district, which includes the City of Escanaba, and the Townships of Wells, Cornell and Ford River. Ford River and Cornell have school debts which predate the consolidation and which they are paying off themselves in addition to their obligations to the new Escanaba Area High School debt. It is proposed to equalize these debts by making them general obligations of the whole district.

Under Accelerated Public Works policy the jail project would have to be started in 120 days to qualify for the $177,000 federal grant.

Old West Touch Given U.P. Ranch

IRON MOUNTAIN—It's a bit of the old west, complete with horses, cattle, ranch-hands and acres of fenced-in pasture. And it is rapidly becoming a principal point of interest for residents and visitors alike.

It's the E-Bar-D Ranch, owned and operated by Edward Tirschel, proprietor of the Peninsula Beverage Co., Iron Mountain, and his wife, Dorothy.

But it is by no means an ordinary ranch. In fact, Tirschel caters exclusively to the world-famed Appaloosa breed of horse—the oldest and finest in the world.

He now owns 31 splendid specimens of the breed, several of which have won outstanding honors at various horse-shows and state fairs.

Actually, the ranch comprises two separate areas, one of 120 acres on the Carrollo farm behind Lake Antoine, and the other 117 acres of the Arcadio Branz farm property on the Upper Pine Creek road. Both areas are leased by Tirschel from the owners.

Much of the activity centers about the main ranch on the Carrollo farm where an intensive schedule of training, to prepare the Appaloosas for performances at special events, is in progress daily. Horses not in training are pastured at the Branz farm, until ready.

Lauerman Land Appeal Heard

MENOMINEE—Three commissioners of condemnation are hearing testimony in an appeal brought by Raymond M. Lauerman of Marinette from an award by a special right of way committee involving property on Riverside Ave. The hearing is being held in Marinette County courthouse.

The land in question was obtained by the right of way committee of the Marinette City Council for the highway department by condemnation proceedings. Lauerman is appealing the condemnation and the amount awarded for land which is now a part of highway 180.

Lauerman testified that he purchased the 325 feet of river frontage north of the highway in 1947 at a cost of $2,500. The remainder of his property located south of the road was purchased for $12,500 Lauerman stated.

Lauerman stated the property he owned prior to the road improvement was valued at between $18,000 and $20,000. Since the road improvement the value of the property has decreased to about $15,000, Lauerman testified.

The amount of the award made to Lauerman following condemnation was not revealed. It was pointed out that statutes provide that the commissioners of condemnation sitting in on the hearing shall not be advised of the amount of the award.

Supreme Court Denies Appeal In Union Case

MARQUETTE — Michigan's Supreme Court has denied an application for an emergency appeal of the temporary injunction issued in circuit court here against picketing of the Red Wing, an ore carrier owned by Upper Lakes Shipping, Ltd., Toronto.

The decision, handed down Wednesday night by the high court was in answer to a petition filed last Thursday by attorneys for District II, Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (MEBA).

The Supreme Court denied MEBA's application for emergency appeal, request for a stay of the proceedings and request to vacate the injunctive judgment. The temporary injunction was issued in Marquette County Circuit Court July 18 by Judge Ernest W. Brown of Iron Mountain, who said that picketing of the Red Wing by the Seafarers International Union and organizations acting in concert with the SIU was unlawful and for an unlawful purpose.

Mrs. Hanna Swen Claimed By Death

Mrs. Hanna Swen, 79, of Bergland, Mich., the mother of Mrs. Art Makinen of Escanaba, died at the Wakefield Hospital at 7 a. m. Friday. She had entered the hospital Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Makinen had spent the past three winters here with her daughter at the Makinen home, 1510 S. 14th St.

The body is at the Brown Funeral Home, Bruce Crossing, and funeral services will be held in the Lutheran Church at Bergland at 4 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 11.

Maj. Coplan Ends Career In Marines

Maj. Ralph D. Coplan, Marine pilot of World War II and the Korean War and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Coplan of Escanaba, has retired after 21 years of flying with the Marine Corps.

Major Coplan entered service in June, 1942 and after commissioning was sent to the South Pacific as a dive bomber pilot and participated in 65 dive bombing missions. Returning to the States in 1944 he became a flight instructor and continued in this capacity until the end of the war. Then, as a fighter pilot, he had duty in China, Midway Islands, Hawaii, the Mediterranean and the Caribbean areas.

In 1950 he became a helicopter pilot and instructor and when Korean War started was sent there and flew in 85 missions.

He was stationed for 2 years in Marine Headquarters in Washington, D. C., and later resumed flying of helicopters. In 1960-61 he

Tax Commission Holds Hearings On Ore Firm Appeals

IRON RIVER—A hearing by the Michigan State Tax Commission was held this week in the Iron County Court House at Crystal Falls regarding appeals against assessing districts in the county by mining companies.

Robert Eckhardt, chairman of the State Tax Commission, presided over the meeting. He heard attorneys for the mining companies cite discrimination in assessments between mining and non-mining property.

Generally, the hearing was a repeat of the hearing held last year at Crystal Falls on mining company appeals. The tax commission made no decisions, but merely recorded the proceedings and evidence submitted for consideration by the full commission at some future date in Lansing.

Represented at the meeting were Hanna Mining Company, National Steel Corp., Inland Steel, Pickands Mather & Co., North Range Mining Co. and Lakehead Pipeline Co.

The hearing, which lasted about an hour, consisted of arguments before the commission by representatives of the mining companies, and the pipeline firm, and rebuttal by the assessing units involved.

Jensen Serves With Group On Water Resources

Our water wonderland state, according to a recent warning by the Michigan Rural Areas Development Committee, has plenty of fresh water, but it's not easy to transport. Often it simply isn't in the right place at the right time, according to Lynn F. Baldwin, Eaton Rapids accountant and chairman of the state RAD subcommittee on natural resources.

In a recent report the subcommittee stressed the growing problem of industrial pollution of our bodies of water. Increased pretreatment and temperature control of waste products dumped into streams may soon be crucial.

"Proper water management depends on intended use," the subcommittee observed. "For example, thorough drainage for some purposes may reduce an area's recreation value. Land-use decisions must be made for the general welfare, not just for the landowner's profit."

Serving with Baldwin on the subcommittee are Walfrid Been, head of the Department of Mining Engineering, Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton; Gordon B. Bonfield, Grand Rapids packaging-firm executive; Roy A. Jensen of Escanaba, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Fish Producers Association; and Volmar Miller, Paw Paw builder.

Leaders in resource development at Michigan State University have also worked closely with the 31-person state RAD committee. The committee provides state-wide guidance for the federally-supported RAD program. RAD seeks to help promote economic and social growth in rural communities.

VANITY, VANITY . . .

VIENNA (AP)—Feel like knocking 10 years off your age? Well, just don't change your passport birthdate.

A 58-year-old woman from Voesendorf near here was sentenced to a suspended four-week jail term for making herself 10 years younger on her passport.

The judge called it "forgery of an official document." He said three more women will soon face his court on the same charge.

Exhibits Receive Final Polish For Big State Fair

Around the Upper Peninsula this weekend the calves and the carrots and other exhibits planned for the U.P. State Fair are being given a final polishing in preparation for display at the fair's opening in Escanaba on Tuesday.

Some livestock from more distant parts of the Peninsula will begin arriving at the Fairgrounds this weekend; most however will come in on Monday along with entries for all departments of the Fair.

Clerks will be on hand to accept entries up to 8 p.m. Monday and again on Tuesday (opening day of the fair) to noon, said Ray LaPorte, secretary-manager.

Judging Starts Tuesday

"None of the exhibits may be removed until the fair is over," LaPorte explained. "This means that right up to the evening of the last day of the fair visitors will see a complete list of exhibits in all departments. Removal of exhibits is prohibited until 7 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 18."

The weather outlook for the fair, always a subject of concern, is favorable, according to an extended forecast of the U.S. Weather Bureau. Through Wednesday the weather will continue cool with little change in temperature the early part of the week, and little or no precipitation for the period.

All departments of the fair, ranging from art and photography to garden produce and livestock is expected to be well stocked with exhibits this year. The winning exhibitors will receive a total of $25,000 in premiums.

Judges will be on deck first thing Tuesday morning to begin their work. Judging of 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America cattle is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m., for example.

This weekend is also a busy period for the many commercial, industrial and service displays being erected at the Fairgrounds. Tents are going up, booths are being put together and stocked, and the W. G. Wade Shows are being assembled on the midway. Many new rides will entertain the crowds this year.

Months and months of preparation reach their climax with the fair. From around the Upper Peninsula 4-H Club boys and girls are giving final touches to exhibits they will bring to the fair; and on farms, in kitchens, and in schools arrangements are being completed to put the best in farm produce, baked goods and canning, and in educational displays on exhibit.

Each day of the fair has its own special appeal to Fairgoers—but every day is a free day. Only charge is for parking on the grounds.

Governor Coming

Tuesday will bring about 3,000 School Safety Patrol boys and girls to the fair in a program designed to recognize the youngsters and their teachers for their contribution to safety education.

Wednesday will be highlighted by the visit of Gov. George Romney, who will attend a luncheon for him at the House of Ludington at noon and then visit the fair in the afternoon; and in the selection of the U.P. State Fair Queen.

Thursday will be marked by a special program of 4-H talent in the afternoon and the appearance of George Gobel at the evening grandstand show.

Friday has its Junior Rifle contest and Model Airplane contest; Saturday afternoon is stock car races and western music in the evening; and Sunday will have stock car races in the afternoon and Brenda Lee and The Casuals at night.

Grandstand shows are at 2 and 8:15 p.m.

AWOL Soldier Held For B&E

A 20-year-old Norway soldier, AWOL from Fort Gordon, Georgia, is being held in the Delta County jail pending arraignment on a charge of breaking and entering in the daytime.

Rodney E. Kranz, who was picked up by the Manistique State Police at Isabella Friday evening, is charged with the burglary of the Rapid River Creamery in which $31 in currency and change was taken.

According to Gladstone State Police the burglary occurred sometime between 4:35 and 6:15 p.m. Friday. Entry was made either through an unlocked door on the east side of the building, or through a window on the south side in which the glass and screen had been removed.

Witnesses in the area told officers that they had seen a young man dressed in a black jacket hitchhiking on the highway about the time the break-in occurred.

The Gladstone Post notified the Manistique Post to be on the lookout for the suspect.

Meanwhile the proprietor of the Isabella store had called the Manistique State Police to report a young man trying to convert a considerable amount of change into currency.

Officers went to Isabella and Kranz was picked up and turned over to the Gladstone officers. When questioned he admitted the theft.

Horton Resigns As MESC Head

DETROIT (AP) — Max M. Horton, veteran director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission and a nationally known figure in social welfare work, has resigned.

Horton submitted his resignation at an executive meeting of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission here.

Horton's present term as commission director would have expired in June of 1965.

Horton said "I have been a career employee in state service since 1936. It has frequently been at a financial sacrifice. I have thoroughly enjoyed my association with this bipartisan commission and with labor and industry, which accounts for the fact that I have not resigned sooner."

"The pending reorganization of the state government under the new state Constitution was also considered when I thought about resigning," he said.

Commission chairman Walter Campbell of Muskegon said the commission had accepted Horton's resignation as director, returned him to the post of assistant director, from which he was appointed director.

The assistant director's pay is $21,172 and the directorship's salary is $18,000.

Menominee Gets $75,000 Grant

MENOMINEE — A new garage, machine and repair shop will be built within four months between Stephenson and Daggett by the Menominee County Road Commission to replace the present obsolete shop and garage at Stephenson.

The announcement was made by James A. Spies, county road unit chairman, following receipt of word from Sen. Pat V. McNamara that the Community Facilities Administration had approved a $75,000 grant for the $150,000 project under the Accelerated Public Works program.

Spies said the county road body would borrow $75,000, as its share of the joint project against future receipts from the gasoline tax law to liquidate the loan. Authority to borrow the $75,000 has been cleared by the Menominee County Board of Supervisors and the Michigan Finance Commission.

Fined $20 On Game Law Charge

Eugene Holm, 31, of 705 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, was fined $20 plus court costs of $7.30 after he pleaded guilty to a conservation law violation, transporting fire arms after sunset, when arraigned before Justice Ross P. Davis in Gladstone Friday.

Holm was arrested by Conservation Officers Charles Bowen and Tom Safford on Aug. 5 in Ensign Township. Officers said they had received reports of shooting in the area and during investigation had stopped Holm's car and found fire arms in it.

Shoreline Study In Esky. Aug. 27

Rep. Hans C. Rasmussen (R-Ludington) will bring his Interim Committee on the Great Lakes Shoreline to Escanaba for a public meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 27, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the State Office Building.

The stop will be one of six in the state on a tour to study the Great Lakes shoreline and submerged lands problems for the Michigan Legislature.

The Escanaba stop will be the committee's only one in the Upper Peninsula. The Lower Peninsula itinerary from Aug. 20 to Aug. 29 includes Caseville, Port Austin, Detroit, and Ludington, and another hearing will be set up in Lansing after Labor Day, says Rasmussen, a state leader in conservation and chairman of the House Committee on Conservation.

"This is a very important question, of vital interest to all the people of Michigan," said Rasmussen. "We urge them to bring their problems or questions on shoreline problems to our legislative study committee. The public is invited to all the meetings."

Today In The U.P.

NBC's Today Show on television devoted its morning time this week to Michigan. The Upper Peninsula fared well in the process and we're grateful to NBC for the attention which it gave to the Straits of Mackinac area, one of the most historic in America.

When the Pilgrims first were looking over real estate at Plymouth, Etienne Brule was there. The earliest exploration of the Midwest and Upper Mississippi was by way of Mackinac and any American or visitor who wants the tasty tang of our history should go there and look down on the Straits from Old Fort Mackinac, visit Father Marquette's grave at St. Ignace near the site of old Fort DeBorde that the French built, and Fort Michilimackinac at Mackinaw City, where the British garrison was massacred in Pontiac's Rebellion.

Hugh Down's daughter is at the National Music Camp Interlochen and one program was devoted to the camp. It wasn't nepotism, we're sure, this camp is one of the brightest jewels in Michigan's cultural tiara and deserves top billing, whether or not the emcee's daughter is in the act.

Thousands of Michiganders have had the experience of being asked by their Eastern friends with children at the National Music Camp: "Are you near Interlochen?" It's never "Is Interlochen near you?" The place is so renowned that Dr. Joseph Maddy, its founder, managed to survive opposing the creation of a military air base near Interlochen because it would make noises unpleasant to student musicians.

The Today Show spent a program at Wilderness State Park at the tip of the Lower Peninsula, several at Mackinac Island and one at Sault Ste. Marie. The programs familiarity must have fascinated Old Peninsula Hands, like watching their favorite, Aunt Tish, cut a didoe in a family film.

John Voelker was as ruggedly handsome as John Wayne and every bit as good an actor in telling about his career as a writer. It was a bit, he inferred, like the fellow who worked and worked and finally got rich — after he married the boss' daughter. He wrote three books under the pseudonym John Traver and achieved "almost complete anonymity" he said. And then he wrote "Anatomy of a Murder" and struck it rich with a mixture of sex and wit — in that order.

He cribbed the title from Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy" he said and that classic, too, devotes itself much more to sex than to melancholy. Voelker almost returned to anonymity with "Hornstein's Boy" but redeemed himself wonderfully with "Trout Madness" and he has "Anatomy of a Fisherman" in the works and another novel coming up. If we had more John Voelkers on our trout streams we could stop arguing about the road signs and just take care of the tourist boom.

Stewart Woodfill, who runs the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, looked and acted the great host. His delightful report on the old days at the Grand with Mark Twain holding forth and the Swifts, Cudahys and Armours from Chicago summering there, along with the Buschs of St. Louis, would make all the romantics want to rock on the porch of the Grand. It's a precious survivor of a great age, like the track at Saratoga and the spa at White Sulphur Springs.

Chief Herbert W. Welsh Sr., of Rte. 2, Dynamite Hill, L'Anse got a long way from the home reservation to take part in the Soo show. He did an Indian "grass dance" for the TV camera. The Chief traces his ancestry back to Sitting Bull, who helped do in Custer.

He fitted neatly into Down's theme piece; that the Upper Peninsula culture is strongly influenced in its Indian past. All America has an Indian past, of course; the Upper Peninsula differs only in that it has an Indian present, too, where Chief Welsh hangs his scalps, is in Chippewa country and great grandpappy Sitting Bull was a Hunkpapa Sioux. So the Chief is a U. P. immigrant or else he swigs his tribal feathers, but he's given his dignity and charm to many Indian pow-wows in the U. P. and it was a pleasure to see him on TV.

Dr. Edward Williams, vice president of Michigan Tech, told of the area's great mineral industries in an able and informed manner. But the image which came from the show, we fear, is of a historic and beautiful land which has kept its Indians but not its mineral industry. This may be helpful to tourism but it suggests a decadence which isn't a true picture of the Peninsula's resources.

In the hasty scattershot of TV programming of this type it's not to be hoped that there will be a careful report of the subject in depth, so we're glad for the charm of Stewart Woodfill, John Voelker and all the others and for the grass dance of Chief Welsh.

Finding The Way

Speak Up - With Faith

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

"He has the courage of my convictions." So spoke a gentle little lady as she watched a rather non-formist friend express his personal whims. In matters of clothes we're all include to be conformists, and in thought and life we're tempted to go with the crowd. It's a time to admire the person of conviction and moral courage.

Habakkuk was such a person. We modern Americans don't know much about him, yet his words leap with fire. He defies dead conformities, walks past the brambles of easy submission and calls his people to a stirring faith.

Enemies had taken over the homeland of this prophet of the Old Testament, outrages were permitted to go unchecked and, when his neighbors had seemed to lose all hope, this man began to speak. He told of Chaldeans coming into his country, drawing people in like fish in a net and dumping them into unquenching misery.

He knew how to complain. Yet there's something else about this mind who called men to freedom back in the days of 600 B.C.

He could complain with a sense of reverence. It's one thing to blast and to criticize; it's another to call men to solid ground. It's one thing to see with unflinching eyes the misery of men's affairs; it's another to see some eternal purposes even in the disasters. Habakkuk called for freedom, he told of men's sins, yet he was certain "The Lord is in his holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him." It is this same fine protesting mind that insisted:

"Though the fig tree fail; Though no fruit is on the vine ... Yet in God will we find our joy ... He makes our feet as sure as a mountain goat's."

He helps keep our footing in the heights.

Habakkuk makes sense because he does more than complain. His is the voice of a precise faith and a holy reverence. If you want to complain, to blow off steam and to blast, go ahead. But first get a great faith and a sense of reverence!

It is faith in an eternal right that saves complaining from becoming mere cynicism.

It is faith in the worth of virtue that saves us from despair.

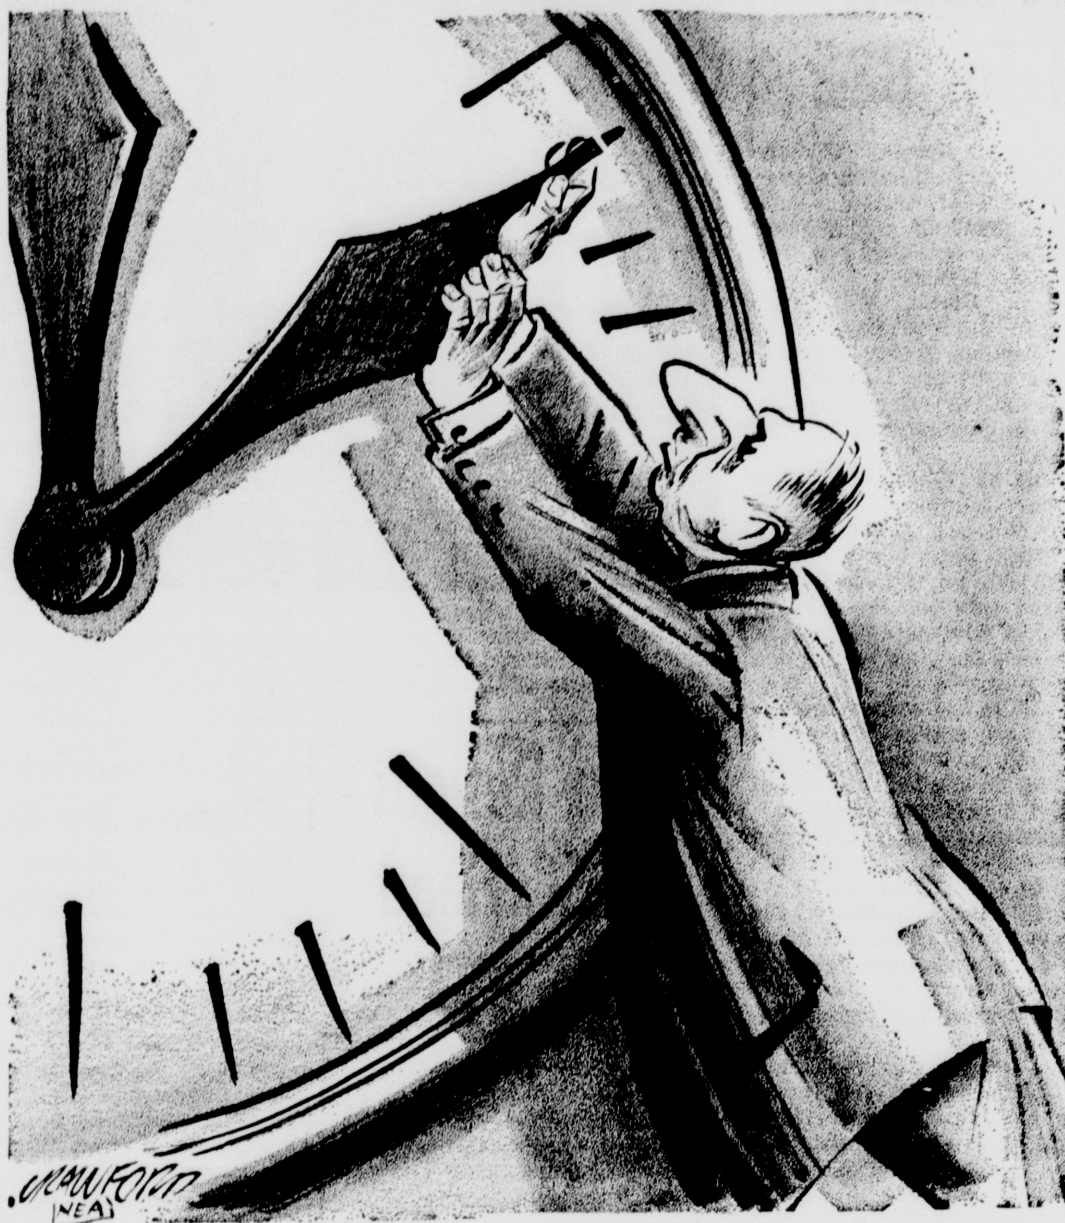

It is faith in God's presence that lifts us from the twin evils of mental slavery and an irresponsible muttering about things.

MAYBE PONTONS?

VERONA, Italy (AP)—The bulletin board outside the quartermaster's office at the Southern European Task Force Headquarters of the United States Army here carried a list of available shoes in off sizes.

But what irked Capt. Charles L. Naegel was when some joker phoned to ask whether the size triple E's came with or without oars.

The General Lends A Hand

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The second step toward disarmament may be in the direction of reducing the danger from surprise attack.

Russia's Chairman, Nikita Khrushchev is reported to have expressed most interest in this subject to U. S. Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman and Britain's Lord Hailsham during Moscow negotiations on the test ban treaty.

The Idea Of Reducing the dangers of surprise attack first appeared in the Soviet bloc disarmament plan of September 1959.

As a kind of postscript, it was stated that if the western powers were not ready to discuss "general and complete disarmament," the Soviet Union would be prepared to consider certain partial measures.

These partial measures include "arrangement on the prevention of surprise attack by one state upon another."

The United Nations 10-power Disarmament Committee's five western countries—America, Britain, Canada, France and Italy—seized on this idea and developed it in their March 1960 proposals.

In The First Stage of their three-stage disarmament plan, it was proposed that a joint study be made on measures to protect against surprise attack.

For the second stage, a proposal was offered to cover aerial inspection—President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan. This proposal called for ground observers, overlapping radar, prior notification of aircraft flights and appropriate communications for reporting to the United Nations.

This was further revised by the United States in June 1960 as a three-part plan to put in complete effect during the first stage of disarmament. But the 10-nation Disarmament Committee failed to agree on anything. So that effort was lost.

In the summer of 1961 the United States and Russia held a series of bilateral talks on disarmament. They finally recommended to the United Nations a joint statement with two separate sets of principles as a guide for future multilateral negotiations before a larger group of non-Communist, Communist and neutral nations. This was what Russia wanted. It became the 18-nation conference which has just reconvened in Geneva.

Again The United States refined its proposals under the title of "Protection Against Accident, Miscalculation and Surprise Attack."

Four recommendations were made for the first stage of a three-stage agreement on general disarmament:

- States to give advance notice of major military maneuvers which might cause alarm and induce countermeasures.
- Observation posts to be established at major ports, railway centers, highway intersections and air bases to report on concentrations and movements of military forces.
- An international commission to recommend further measures to reduce the risk of nuclear war by accident, miscalculation or failure of communications.
- Additional inspection arrangements to be established to reduce the danger of surprise attack.

These Four Proposals were then put in a more comprehensive "Outline of Basic Provisions For a Treaty on General and Complete Disarmament in a Peaceful World."

This was presented to the 18-nation Disarmament Conference in April 1962 and is still before it as pending business.

One of several additional proposals on inspection post locations and expansion calls for an exchange of military missions to improve understanding. A reliable and rapid communications system is also proposed between capitals and the U. N. A first step in this direction has already been approved in the "hot line" between Washington and Moscow via London.

These are the proposals in which Chairman Khrushchev has expressed interest as a second step toward disarmament.

Jack Bloomstrom of Escanaba has been elected state junior councillor of the Michigan Order of DeMolay. His election took place at a state session of the organization at Bear Lake.

Rough seas on Lake Michigan and a missing boatload of Escanaba people, long overdue, caused much anxiety here yesterday. Lt. Wally Arntzen, flying along the shoreline of Stonington Peninsula, spotted the party of 12. All are now safe at home and unharmed. They were returning from Washington Island when the storm struck.

Continuation of the county normal, threatened by a serious lack of funds, received encouragement yesterday by an additional allotment of $1,000. The normal has two teachers and is conducted in the Franklin School building.

State Police Seek Driver Of Hit-Run Car

State Police are seeking the driver of a hit-run car which struck a vehicle parked on the shoulder of U. S. 41 in Masonville Township, one and a half miles north of County Road 428, about 1:10 a. m. today.

According to officers, a car owned by Sandor F. Bacsik, 17, of Rapid River, was parked on the shoulder headed south after it developed trouble. While the youth was outside the car an unidentified vehicle came along, also going south, and struck the parked car.

Officers said they were told that the second car, after hitting the parked vehicle, turned its lights out and sped off at a high rate of speed.

August VanElsacker, 52, of Albion, Mich., suffered a fatal heart attack while visiting at the Pete Paquette camp at Northland early today. Dr. S. J. Green of Gwinn, medical examiner, attributed death to a heart attack.

The Gladstone State Police Post received a call at 2:30 a. m. today from William VanElsacker, a nephew, that he believed his uncle was dead.

An ambulance was sent to the camp and the body taken to the Kelley Funeral Home in Gladstone.

House of the Week

Round Kitchen Is Highlight

Contemporary Beauty: This modest ranch contains three bedrooms and 1 1/2 baths in over-all dimensions of 27'3" deep by 72'2"

Its most dramatic feature is a circular kitchen, the utmost in esthetic interest as well as efficiency.

A circular kitchen, as efficient as it is dramatic, serves as a true housekeeping hub in this contemporary ranch and marks the home as one of up-to-the-minute distinction.

The unusual design eliminates wasted corner space and provides the utmost in step-saving ease for the housewife. Nearly half the circle projects beyond the rear wall of the house and, completely enclosed in glass, permits maximum backyard supervision and allows the work area to be flooded with natural sunlight.

All these practical aspects save nothing about the room's bold and exciting esthetic quality, certainly an important consideration for a housewife. No matter how this kitchen is decorated it will never be dull.

To some extent this is true of the entire house. Its exterior is well proportioned with an eye-catching combination of angles and masses accented through skillful use of materials. The floor plan is well zoned into formal and sleeping areas and plainly geared to modern living.

Designer of this exceptionally fine home is architect Rudolph A. Matern. The house is number J-88 in the House of the Week series.

For all of its interesting and luxurious features the house is well within the medium size category—only 1,450 square feet not counting the single car garage. Its over-all dimensions are 27'3" deep by 72'2" wide. Width of the house excluding the garage is 60'1".

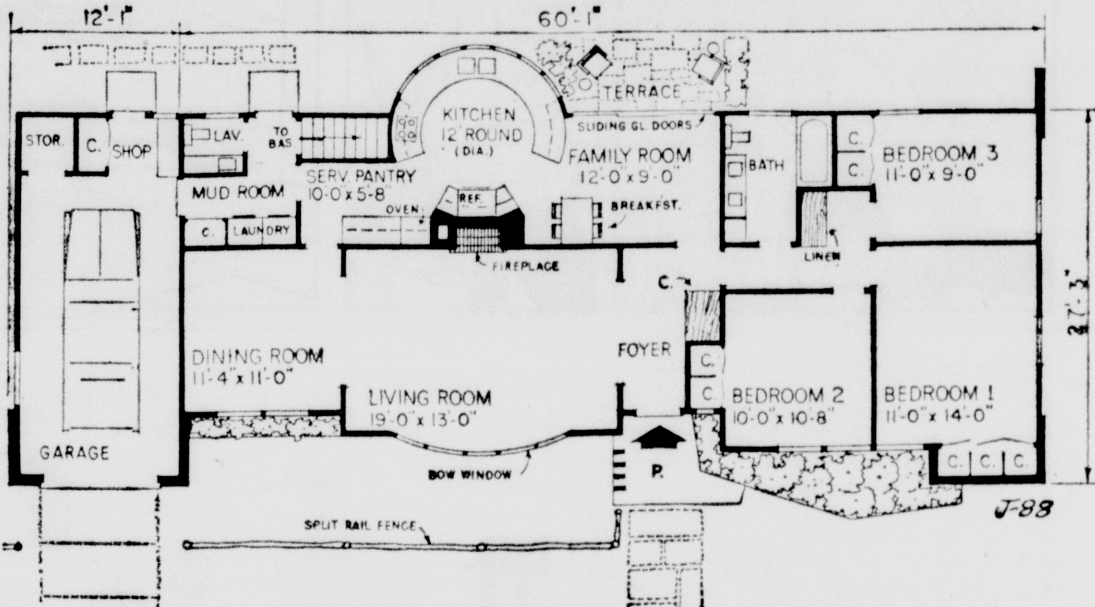

The house contains three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, living room, dining room, family room, foyer, mud room and service pantry. It has a full basement, but the laundry facilities are on the main level for added convenience.

Additional Details

Extending from the circular kitchen, as wings, are the family room and the service pantry, a well ordered grouping of the informal and housekeeping facilities.

The family room has a glass wall, its sliding doors leading to a rear terrace. The combination of family room, terrace and protruding kitchen bay is an example of excellent indoor-outdoor integration.

The service pantry provides access both to the dining room and to a nicely organized service area. Mud room and laundry are convenient to the rear yard and garage workshop as well as the kitchen. The service entry, located Floor Plan: Not counting the garage, this house contains 1,450 square feet well zoned into formal, informal and sleeping areas. The garage, with its storage space and shop, actually contains more square footage than would a 20' by 20' double garage.

here, eliminates a lot of unnecessary traffic through the kitchen. For a one-car family this garage is entirely adequate. Its extra length provides room for a shop and storage bins plus space for tricycles and garden hose and all the other clutter, and has a handy door leading to the backyard as well as direct entry to the house.

The bedroom wing is completely isolated, with closets and the main bath serving as natural sound buffers. All the bedrooms have at

Mortuary Board Dislikes Merger

LANSING (AP)—"We who are about to die—salute you." That was the answer given to Gov. George Romney by the head of a small state agency soon to be gobbled up into a larger department for the sake of efficiency.

Thelma Whitlock, executive secretary of the State Board of Mortuary Science, doesn't like the reorganization plan. She told the governor just that in several thousand well-chosen words.

Under the new Constitution, all state agencies are to be consolidated into about 20 major departments. Romney asked Mrs. Whitlock for her ideas on the reorganization.

"Apparently we are engaged in a hopeless struggle to maintain identity as a separate board," she replied. "The reorganization just seems aimed at cutting off heads and leaving just enough hands to push automation buttons. It leaves a rather unpleasant picture of a series of working hands—with a single hand directing the operation—from a distance."

Mrs. Whitlock believes in freedom of the individual. She has feuded with governors starting with former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

least two closets; the master bedroom has three, all tucked neatly into an extension which serves as a significant feature of the exterior design.

The facade of this house is one of quiet elegance, tastefully blending stone with vertical V-groove boards and with interestingly designed built-in planters.

Is Furniture Worth Repair?

AP Newsfeatures

To repair or not to repair a piece of furniture is a dilemma faced by many people. Is it worth the effort, they want to know. And how do you judge whether it is worth the time and trouble before you invest?

If the object is loved piece of furniture such as an old favorite rocking chair, family heirloom or one that recalls happy memories and associations, the expense and effort should be well worth it.

But one shouldn't put $300 worth of labor into something bought for $20, just to prove he's got a bargain, unless the piece when finished is worth $320 to him. Value your own time when appraising the worth of an item to be repaired.

A rare "find" is another matter. It could be that you would work for a year and put in hundreds of hours of spare time to repair a beautiful piece of furniture, matching veneers or inlay or applying authentic decorative design meticulously in a labor of love. This is an object you can exhibit with personal pride at the finish.

The most careful buyer makes an occasional impulsive purchase that he must judge eventually as having been foolhardy. He should then settle for being out of pocket, reselling the article at the earliest opportunity even at a loss, if owning it causes him mental anguish.

A case in point is that of a young couple in a tiny house who found a good-size Director's secretary, that must have been a gem in other days. The inlay that is intact is lovely, but much of it is missing, along with so many other pieces—drawer fronts, hardware, rails—that it would be an enormous undertaking for an amateur cabinet worker. The desk section is fairly well intact with its narrow drawers, but sides and back of the piece are badly discolored and slightly warped, and because of the inlay, requires tremendous work.

The husband realized he was licked when he took a good long look at it (which he should have done before buying it). His wife wants to make the best of it, putting it in the bedroom with whatever repairs they can make them-ducts dealer? In the old days, you bought your lumber at the yard, your paint someplace else, your plumbing repair materials in a third place, and so on. Today, most lumber yards have a kind of supermarket setup, where you can purchase virtually anything you need to repair, remodel or refinish.

selves making it useable. The husband realistically refused. But now the piece is in their basement where it will no doubt deteriorate. It should be sold even at a loss to someone who has the time and experience to make the repairs.

Anytime one buys an old piece of furniture with the idea of repairing it, he should be fairly well aware of how missing essential pieces may be located and have some basic knowledge of how to put the missing parts together. An old piece can be a good purchase, providing one has the time, money and materials to make repairs. It is frustrating when one doesn't.

Some people forget to figure the cost of materials when estimating expenditures necessary in making repairs. Warped pieces may require clamps. Decoration can be a costly item if gold leaf or many colors must be used. Authentic reproductions of hardware can bring the cost of a goodsize piece of furniture up considerably. It is worthwhile if you have a treasure when finished, but often it would have been cheaper to buy a good piece in the beginning.

One man, who bought a severely damaged Boston rocker for $15, could have got one in good condition at the same sale for $27. But the enjoyment he had in refinishing the piece was worth the trouble.

Attitude is something that must be taken into consideration when making a decision too, and that can be evaluated only by the interested party. Never buy anything that needs to be repaired if you feel wishy-washy about doing it.

ESCANABA MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC UTILITY

Putting plenty of wiring in your home doesn't actually work just the way it is pictured here. Actually, a modern wiring system for your home should be carefully planned, to include: a big enough main switch panel, the "door" through which electricity enters your home; plenty of branch wiring circuits, with big-enough wires to handle your many uses of electricity; plenty of outlets, so you can plug in electrical equipment where you use it; and enough switches, to give you the most convenience in using electricity.

The time to get a modern wiring system for your home is when you're building or remodeling. To live better electrically, wire your home for today's and tomorrow's growing list of electrical servants.

Ann Landers Religion Unjust?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl 15 and I'm writing in behalf of a friend of mine who is the same age. She said it would not be right for her to write to you because it might sound as if she were criticizing her parents. She did give me permission, however, to ask you some questions.

This girl is not permitted to wear make-up—not even lipstick—because it is against her religion. She can't date and is not allowed to talk to boys on the telephone. She can't dance because this is prohibited by her religion, also.

But the saddest thing is that the poor kid is not allowed to wear a bathing suit. If she wants to go swimming she has to wear a dress. Of course she's ashamed and refuses to go swimming with us girls unless we go to an out of the way creek.

Can you do something to help her?—A FRIEND

Dear Friend: I have received countless letters from teenagers who are unhappy because their religion prohibits many things which they believe are harmless—such as dancing and movies. I cannot advise these teenagers to oppose their religious training.

If this girl's religion prohibits the wearing of a bathing suit, then I am not going to tell her to wear one. Unfortunately, some teenagers who feel that their religious restrictions are unjust break loose and do everything they shouldn't do the first moment they get out from under the eyes of their parents.

Dear Ann: Please print this letter for the husband who won't allow his wife to hire a sitter for their 18-month-old baby because he doesn't think young children should be left with "strangers." We had an identical experience. My husband wasn't the only one who was hipped on the subject, I was just as bad. We ignored the advice of friends and even told our doctor he "didn't understand." We thought we were being devoted parents and that everyone else was wrong.

When our little Debbie was two and a half years old I had to be hospitalized for three weeks. Debbie was terribly upset by my absence. She had nightmares, tantrums and wouldn't eat or sleep.

When I returned from the hospital Debbie was a clinging, frightened, thumb-sucking, bed-wetting child. It took us three years to get her straightened around.

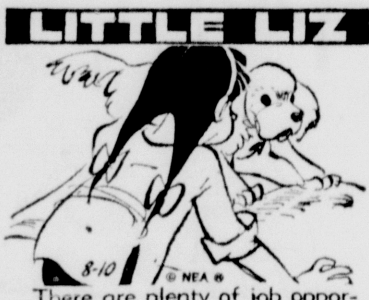

Now Debbie has a brother. We introduced him to sitters when he was three weeks old and he is now a cheerful, well-adjusted little guy who loves everybody. Thought you'd like to know.—TAKING NO CHANCES

***

Dear Taking: Many thanks for sharing your experiences. So much has been said about togetherness I'm happy to help strike a blow for a little "apartness" which I support wholeheartedly.

***

Dear Ann Landers: A certain member of our family (who must not be identified) is the sweetest soul in the world—also the loudest cook.

For years now we've been having family picnics and each of us brings something. This person has yet to bring anything the rest of us can eat. She can even ruin lemonade—not enough lemons, too much sugar, luke warm. Her fried chicken is so highly seasoned even the dog wouldn't eat it.

No one wants to hurt her feelings yet we all agree she should make a fair contribution to the picnics. Is there a solution?—UNHOLY THREE

Dear Three: This "sweet soul" should be asked to bring items which need only be purchased—franks, hamburger buns, a case of soft drinks, paper napkins, potato chips. Get the idea?

***

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experience of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Carol Hebert Becomes Bride Of James LaLonde

Before the altar of St. Andrew's Catholic Church in Nahma Miss Carol Louise Hebert became the bride of James Allen LaLonde today. Vases of yellow gladioli and white pompons decorated the church for the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Louis M. Braatz.

Miss Mary Beth Sargent sang the Nuptial High Mass and chose "Ave Maria," by Arcadelt for the Offertory. When the bride placed her bouquet before the Blessed Virgin, Miss Sargent sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marion Hebert of St. Jacques and her husband is a son of Mrs. Hazel LaLonde of Gladstone.

Bridal Gown

Given in marriage by her brother, Howard, the bride wore a gown of white net over taffeta. The fitted lace bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long lace sleeves. The full, floor length skirt was accented by side lace panels. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations and yellow roses.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Tony Mauhar of Gladstone and Mrs. John Frankovich of Isabella were her attendants. Mrs. Mauhar, matron of honor, wore a gown of sheer nylon over yellow taffeta with a scoop neckline. Her colonial bouquet was of bronze and yellow carnations and she wore a matching headpiece. Mrs. Frankovich wore a similar gown of mint green and carried a colonial bouquet of white and yellow carnations.

Richard LaLonde, of Milwaukee, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Paul Van Damme was groomsmen. Larry Gendron and Tony Mauhar acted as ring bearers.

Flower Girl

Karen Poma, Escanaba, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

NEWBERRY

Linda Jo Johnson And Evan Young Speak Vows

NEWBERRY—In a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Charles Beckingham, assisted by Pastor Fred Olson, in the Messiah Lutheran church here Saturday at 3 p. m. Miss Linda Jo Johnson, daughter of the William V. Johnsons of 302 Harrie St., became the bride of Evan Young of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Young of Akron, Ohio.

The bride wore a white silk organza gown with a fitted bodice a bell shaped schiffli embroidered skirt and chapel train. Her bouffant shoulder veil was attached to a seed pearl pill box surrounding a cabbage rose. She carried a cascade bouquet, of a white orchid with lilies of the valley.

Her attendants were Miss Elizabeth DeWaard, a friend, as maid of honor, Miss Jeanne Kalmbach, a cousin, Miss Ellen Young of Akron, Ohio, a sister of the bridegroom, and a friend, Miss Linnea

Orr of Marion, Ohio, as bridesmaids, wore identically styled dresses, patterned on lines as was the brides, but of street length white silk organza. Their hats were blue cabbage roses, they wore white kid gloves, and carried crescent bouquets of blue daisies.

Heidi Flower in blue organza over white was the flower girl, Victor Johnson, a nephew of the bride was the ring bearer.

Roland Bingham, a college roommate of the bridegroom, was best man, while William Johnson, a brother of the bride, and her cousin, Michael Kalmbach, were groomsmen. A friend Larry Spencer of Lake Odessa acted as the officiant.

Mrs. Johnson wore a street length dress of ice blue lace, a blue hat, and a single orchid. Mrs. Young, mother of the bridegroom, chose an ice blue two piece street length dress of silk, with white accessories and a single orchid.

A reception at the Newberry Country Club for several hundred guests followed immediately after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Young are traveling in Canada, and on their return will live at 6942 S. Jeffrey St., Chicago.

The new Mrs. Young is a 1957 graduate of Newberry High School, she attended Central Michigan University, and is a graduate of the Ray Vogue School in Chicago. She is presently an assistant buyer at the Fair Store there. Her husband graduated from Amherst College in Amherst, Mass. and will be in his third year this fall in medical school at the Chicago College of Osteopathy.

In This Corner

with BILL FINLAN

(pinchhitting for vacationing Ray Crandall)

The Escanaba Cubs, 11th District Champs Upper Peninsula Champs... third best American Legion team in the state of Michigan, are back in town for a rest after three long weeks of baseball... They slammed their way, in come-from-behind efforts against Menominee for the district title, against Marquette for the U.P. title and, after losing to Adrian in the first game, Escanaba fans were hoping that they would come from behind again to win the state tourney.

They did down the collection of boys from the city of Flint, but Detroit Edison managed to knock them out of the tournament.

A considerable amount can be said for these kids, and especially for guys like perennial Cub coach, Al Ness, and manager Bob Olsen. The real reason that the Cubs have been going to the down-state tournament for as long as most baseball fans can remember, is the excellent baseball program provided in Escanaba for fellows of the grasshopper size up through the old-timers... When they get to the Cubs they often have had seven or eight years of organized baseball... Then Ness takes over. He produces a team that has depth, and seldom has to field a stiff (deadhead)... All of the fellas on the field are ball-players of the first order as American Legion Teams go.

During the past few years, at least, teams have come to Escanaba with players that Ness would like to have on his side... But these players go back home with their team after losing another game, mainly because their team had a few good baseball players, and the others were fillers... This seldom happens on a Cub team... The Casey Stengel of Escanaba, Al Ness, has had a lot to do with the soundness of the Cub teams... Even during the games, Ness is in the third-base coaching box flashing signals to the players, and more often than not he catches the opponents sleeping.

Retiring this year from the Cub team will be second sacker Joe Hebert, third sacker Jim Bruce and pitcher-first sacker Mike Kositsky, who have been with the Cubs team for five years... Also Jerry Sundquist, fielder and pitcher, who transferred to the Cubs from Schaffer this year, will be leaving... The players are allowed to play with the team provided they have not reached their 19th birthday by Sept. 1 of that year.

Houk Has Problem; So Who Needs Ford

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Oh, how Ralph Houk suffers.

First Mickey Mantle gets mangled, then Whitey Ford gets mauled. And the New York Yankees play catch-me-if-you-can with the rest of the American League.

Since Ford was bombed out at Washington and became Houk's latest problem, Stan Williams has pitched a one-hitter, Al Downing a three-hitter, Ralph Terry a six-hitter and Jim Bouton a five-hitter. The opposition has scored two runs—one earned.

It's enough to turn Houk's gray hairs brown.

Bouton's 1-0 victory over the

Los Angeles Angels Friday night was his 15th triumph and fourth shutout. It increased the Yankees' edge to 8½ games over the second-place Chicago White Sox.

The White Sox won the opener of a two-night doubleheader with

Detroit 2-1 on Camilo Carreon's tie-breaking single, but the Tigers stumbled to a 3-1, 10-inning nightcap victory although two Detroit runners were thrown out at the plate and another was cut down at third during the winning rally.

Jim Perry's four-hit pitching and three home runs gave third-place Minnesota a 5-3 decision over Boston and dropped the Red Sox into sixth place with their seventh consecutive defeat. Russ

Snyder drove in three runs in Baltimore's 7-1 victory over Washington and Kansas City defeated

Cleveland 5-1 behind Moe Drabowsky's three-hitter.

In the National League, Cincinnati knocked off the leading Los Angeles Dodgers 8-4, San Francisco shut out Philadelphia 4-0, Milwaukee downed St. Louis 6-3, the New York

Mets whipped Chicago's Cubs 7-3 and Houston and Pittsburgh split a pair of 7-6 games. The Colts won the opener in 15 innings, the Pirates took the nightcap in 11.

Bouton, now 15-5, got the only run he needed in the second inning when Joe Pepitone raced home on John Blanchard's sacrifice fly. That tagged Don Lee with the loss. The victory was the Yankees' fourth straight and dealt the Angels their fifth consecutive defeat.

Carreon singled home the decisive run for the White Sox in the fourth inning of the opener. Eddie

Fisher got the victory, allowing only two hits after taking over when Joel Horlen suffered a back injury in a collision at first base with Detroit's Norm Cash in the fourth inning.

Rocky Colavito, who homered

in both games, got the Tigers started with a walk in the 10th inning of the nightcap but wound up thrown out at the plate as he tried to score on Don Wert's groundout. Cash, who had batted behind Colavito, was tossed out at home on Bill Freehan's bouncer before Bubba Phillips stroked

a two-run single and was cut down trying to reach third.

Army Man Wins Pistol Tourney

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—William Blankenship Jr., an Army sergeant from Ft. Benning, Ga. Friday won his fourth straight national pistol championship at the 1963 National Rifle and Pistol matches.

The 33-year-old soldier fired 2654-151 to break the national match record of 2636-128 he set in 1960. The score was the aggregate of three days of shooting in the 22-caliber, center fire and 45-caliber matches. His center fire weapon was .38-caliber.

Air Force Staff Sgt. Albin R. Merx of Onsted, Mich., was second in the grand aggregate with 2639-124. Merx, a consistently high scorer throughout the matches, also broke a record in the 45-caliber slow-fire match.

Championship Games Tomorrow

Trenary Wins 17-7; Play Finale Sunday

Two outside teams, Powers and Trenary, came to town last week for the Class C District Tournament being held at the Memorial Field, and they have been making it rough for the hometown boys.

In the first game last night in the loser's bracket, the Powers-Spalding Merchants jumped all over Bill's Bar of Rapid River, with the score finally ending up 13-4.

The big gun for Powers-Spalding was Ralph Veeder, who banged out three doubles and a single in five at-bats. Bill Anderson poked a homer and a double for the winners and pitcher Bob Triest had a double and a single.

Roger Murray and Triest shared the pitching chores, allowing three hits. The win for Powers-Spalding puts them into a semi-final game with Hall Insurance tonight. The winner of that game moves into the Sunday afternoon finale with undefeated Trenary.

In the second game under the lights at Memorial Field, Floyd Kallio and his gang from Trenary clubbed their way through three Hall Insurance pitchers on their way to a five-inning 17-7 win.

The Trenary team scored the 17 runs on eight hits, but they combined the hits with six costly Hall Insurance errors to gain the victory. Trenary led off in the top of the first with a walk, two consecutive errors and a single to score four runs.

Hall Insurance bounced back with a run in the bottom of the first on a single by Tom Johnson and a two-bagger by Jim Artley.

Trenary scored five more in the second, on three singles, two walks, and a grand-slam homer by pint-sized Lusardi, the Trenary shortstop.

Hall Insurance was down in the mouth when they came to bat in the top of the second, but by the time the inning was over, they were all steamed up and the umpire, Ray Wahowiak, was checking his watch. The second inning finished at twenty-five to ten, and Hall Insurance had picked up six runs.

Les Millette got to first on an error in the second, Bob West doubled, Carl Eastman singled, Ralph Drage singled, John Gardiner singled, and Les Millette, up for the second time, lined a two-bagger. The six-run flurry was all the Insurance team was to get for the rest of the evening.

Trenary got three more runs on one single in the third, four runs on a single and a triple in the fourth, and one run on a single in the fifth.

The highlight of the evening was the fine fielding of the Trenary third-sacker, Passaneo.

Rookies To Start In Game Tonight For Detroit Lions

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions planned to test what they consider an improved offensive line and try out rookies tonight in their National Football League exhibition opener against the Cleveland Browns.

The Browns planned to concentrate on winning rather than experimenting, said Cleveland coach Blanton Collier.

"We're going to use our veterans most of the way, or as long as necessary," he said.

The game is expected to draw more than 35,000 fans.

Detroit coach George Wilson planned to start with almost the same lineup which narrowly missed the championship last season, with two important exceptions.

Rookie tackle Daryl Sanders of Ohio State, the Lions' No. 1 draft choice, will start in the offensive line, Wilson is hoping Sanders will correct what the coach had considered a weak side of the line.

Floyd Peters, a former Brown, will be at Alex Karras' old tackle spot in the defensive line.

Milt Plum and Earl Morrill will share quarterbacking duties.

BULLETIN

Two golfers from the Escanaba area are still in the Upper Peninsula Men's Tournament being held this week at the Golf and Country Club of Soo, Ontario.

Tony Cass and Elmer Swanson remained in the championship flight with scores of 159 for Cass and 161 for Swanson. Both men are from the Escanaba Country Club.

Leading after the first 36 holes was Mike Garrity of Marquette with a 147. Two other Marquette men hold the number two and three spots. Bill Connors, last year's winner, is in second with a 150, and Marty Shanley is third with a 153.

The championship flight will be finished about 7 p. m. today.

Undergrads To Play Graduates Tonight In Little League

The Escanaba Jaycee Little League will officially ring down the curtain on the 1963 season tonight at the Little League Field with the graduate - undergraduate game staged for the benefit of the Retarded Children's Building program. Game time is 6:15.

The seniors are expected to open with Steve Miketina on the hill while the undergraduates will go with Dan Mylander. Members of the 1963 tournament team are reminded to turn in their uniforms.

Best right-handed hitter in the American League last season was Washington's Chuck Hinton. He hit .310. Baltimore's Brooks Robinson was next with .303.

Craig Finally Wins, Kicks Losing Streak

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

A combination of knitting, hitting and hexing did the job for Roger Craig.

Roger's missus tended to her nervous knitting. Jim Hickman tended to the hitting and Manager Casey Stengel tended to the hexing. The end result was enough to have Craig chortling:

"It's over. Oh, man, it's over."

That was the veteran right-hander's grateful comment Friday night after the New York Mets had pulled out a 7-3 victory over Chicago in the last of the ninth, snapping Craig's personal 18-game losing string that stretched back to April 29. The streak equaled the National League record and was within one of the major league mark of 19.

To escape that dubious record, Craig traded his regular uniform number, 38, for No. 13.

His biggest assist came from Hickman, who hit a grand slam homer on a 3-2 pitch with the score tied and two men out in the bottom of the ninth.

Casey got his hand in, too. When Cub relief pitcher Lindy "Daniel" Anderson pitched the climactic 3-2 pitch, Ol' Case gestured wildly in the dugout, waving his crossed fingers at the pitcher in the classic baseball sign of "putting on the hex."

And while it was all going on Mrs. Craig sat in the stands, nervously knitting away at a furious rate.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati chased in five unearned runs and beat the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 8-4 while second-place San Francisco blanked Philadelphia 4-0, cutting the Dodgers margin to 4½ games. Milwaukee beat St. Louis 6-3 at Pittsburgh and Houston split a doubleheader that lasted more than 7½ hours and ended at 2:30 a.m. Pittsburgh time. The Pirates won the second game, 7-6 in 11 innings after Houston had won 7-6 in 15.

In the American League, the New York Yankees edged Los Angeles 1-0 while the second-place

Chicago White Sox split a pair with Detroit, winning the first 2-1 and losing the second 3-1 in 10 innings. Baltimore bombed Washington 7-1, Kansas City beat Cleveland 5-1 and Minnesota drubbed Boston 5-3.

Two errors by Dodger third baseman Jim Gilliam opened the way for six Cincinnati runs in the sixth inning, five of them unearned. Gene Green doubled in one run after Gilliam had booted a potential double play grounder and Leo Cardenas singled in another. Another Gilliam error let in two more and Vada Pinson singled in the last two. Joe Nuxhall was credited with the victory, but needed relief help from Al Worthington when the Dodgers rallied for three in the ninth.

Houston won the opener at Pittsburgh when Howie Goss slid under Bill Mazeroski's high throw with the tie-breaking run in the 15th. Hal Woodeshick, who allowed only three hits after coming on in the eighth, was the winner. Bob Clemente's bases loaded single broke up the second game and gave reliever Al McBean his 12th victory in 15 decisions. Only about 500 fans remained in the park when the doubleheader finally ended.

25th Annual UP Shoot To Be Held At Fair

The 25th Annual Upper Peninsula Pistol Shoot, sponsored by the U. P. State Fair Board and the U. P. Law Enforcement Officers Association, will be held at the fair grounds in Escanaba on Aug. 13.

Shooting will begin at 8 a. m., and the day will be wrapped up with a banquet for contestants at 5 p. m. The matches will be composed of police agency employees and individual contestants.

In team competition, three classifications are listed. Class A is established from police or conservation forces with 21 or more at a station, Class B from 10 to 20 men at a single station, and Class C from posts with 10 or less at a station.

Approximately 15 teams are entered for competition according to shoot director, John Chriske, who is a district supervisor of the conservation department, stationed at Escanaba.

The teams are from law enforcement agencies including state police, sheriff's departments, city police departments and one team is from the K. I. Sawyer Air Police unit. About 70 shooters will participate and Chriske said he expects about 140 persons to attend the evening banquet at the House of Ludington.

Chriske will be assisted by Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman, Escanaba Police Captain Joseph Corcoran and State Police Post Commander Hugh Pope of Gladstone.

Hugh Fisher will be the range officer, handling the group during shooting, and issuing commands. Fisher is with the conservation department, stationed at Escanaba.

Sergeant Paul D. Rothermel of the 56th Air Police Squadron at K. I. Sawyer will assist Fisher.

Fullmer-Tiger Fight In Hands Of Rain Doctors

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP) — Now it's all up to the rain doctors.

Final preparations for the Dick Tiger-Gene Fullmer world middleweight title fight have been completed. Except, of course, for the rain doctors, who may or may not qualify as official.

The fight, the third between champion Fullmer, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. tonight, or 1:30 p.m., EST, in Liberty Stadium, an open-air field usually used for soccer matches. About the only thing that could hold it up is rain.

And this is where the rain doctors come in.

The rainy season is on the wane in this city of 750,000, but drenching showers still are a daily occurrence. Chief Joseph Modupe Johnson, Cabinet minister for labor and sports, has hired a couple of rain doctors to chase away any clouds. This, he said, is just to reassure any potential customers who may still believe in such mumbo-jumbo.

The fight, twice postponed already, is scheduled for 15 rounds. British referee Dick Hart will be the only official.

Tiger, who lifted the crown from Fullmer on points in San Francisco, Oct. 23, 1962, ranks as a top-heavy favorite. The two fought to a draw in Las Vegas Feb. 23 in their second meeting, Tiger retaining his title.

Tiger is 33, Fullmer 32. They are well-matched physically, although Tiger has a two-inch reach advantage over Fullmer, who normally fights a crowd, punishing style aimed at getting inside his opponent's guard.

Tiger has a 47-12-3 record with 21 knockouts. Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, has a 55-5-3 record with 24 knockouts.

Mrs. Winn, 78, Dies Friday

Mrs. Ian Winn, 78, of 212 S. Maple St., died at 10:45 a. m., Friday in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

She was born in Clare, July 19, 1885 and had resided here 46 years. Her affiliations included the Order of Eastern Star, Chapter 54, and the Pythian Sisters.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Foster (Dorothy) Jones of Battle Creek, Mrs. Francis H. (Blanche) Poggenberg of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Lorraine C. Cullen, of Manistique, eight grandchildren, four great grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. V. W. Duclon of Green Bay and Mrs. Raymond Bauder of Manistique, and two brothers, A. T. Chase of Munising and Frank B. Chase of Howell. Mr. Winn died in 1952.

Friends may call at Kefauver & Jackson Funeral Home between 3 and 4 p. m., and 7 and 10 p. m., Sunday. Eastern Star services will be conducted at 8 p. m., Sunday. Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p. m., Monday with the Rev. William Schobert officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

Millard Ash, 26, Is Accidentally Wounded By Pistol

Millard L. Ash, 26, of Rte. 1, Tripp City, Ohio, is being treated at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for an accidental gunshot wound sustained Friday evening at Indian Lake.

State Police report Ash and a 10-year-old boy, William Kistler, were going up the lake by boat and that Ash had placed the .22 calibre revolver on the rear seat of his 14-foot aluminum boat. As he pushed the boat from shore and jumped into it he accidentally bumped the gun causing it to discharge.

The bullet entered the front portion of the right upper leg and came out the opposite side.

Tourist Stricken While Vacationing At Gulliver Lake

Menominee River Pollution Studied By U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Welfare Department announced Friday it has started action looking toward pollution control of the interstate waters of four rivers—the Monongahela, Pearl, Snake and Menominee—in nine states.

More than 70 industries and 85 municipalities are involved as possible contributors to pollution of the streams, the department said.

Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze has called for enforcement conferences on pollution of the waters of the rivers to review the pollution problems in each of the rivers with the state agencies and, if appropriate, recommend action to improve the quality of the waterways.

The conference on the Menominee River, in Michigan and Wisconsin will be held in Menominee, Mich., on Nov. 6 and will be open to the public.

State In Boom, Auto Club Says

DETROIT (AP)—The Automobile Club of Michigan says the state is in the greatest boom of its history.

In a survey report, the Auto Club says Michigan's tourist revenue for 1963 could go beyond the $900 million predicted earlier this year. The report shows the increase in tourists varied from five to 30 per cent above 1962 figure.

"Almost every tourist agency and resort chamber of commerce in Michigan reports unprecedented numbers of summer visitors in July and August so far," said Jerry Fisher, Auto Club touring manager.

Fisher said both local and out-state visitors account for the tourist boom. He said requests for resort reservations from the Auto Club's main office in Detroit have increased 50 per cent over last year.

Fisher said the International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie now has 2,500 cars a day passing over it. He said this is 70 per cent more than came into the state via the ferry.

Traffic over the Ambassador Bridge in Detroit has also increased by 40,000 cars or five per cent, he said.

Fisher laid the high increases to continuing dry, warm, sunny weather, the state's extensive highway system, and an upsurge in tourist promotional material to nearby states.

Space Program Slash Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved spending more than $5.5 billion on the expanding space program.

By a narrow 37 to 32, Senate leaders beat down a bipartisan effort Friday to slash $307 million from the huge authorization for the current fiscal year. At $5,511,520,400, the authorization is about $200 million below President Kennedy's request, but more than $300 million above the House's figure.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, who led the move to cut the authorization back to the $5.2 billion voted by the House, said he had not heard a good reason for rushing a man to the moon by 1970.

But Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., floor manager for the bill and chairman of the Senate Space Committee, and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., insisted the lunar projects would help the United States overtake Russia's superiority in thrust power.

Their argument carried. On the showdown, 18 Republicans and 14 Democrats voted for the slash. They were beaten by 23 Democrats and 9 Republicans.
